

Reds Step Up Push, Loyalists Flee to Thai

By ANTOINE YARED

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Royal Lao troops were reported fleeing across the Mekong River into friendly Thailand today as pro-Communist forces seized Houei Sai more than 100 miles beyond the cease-fire line.

The Red rebels drove forward to capture the government outpost on the Mekong border and complete their occupation of the whole of northwest Laos in defiance of a demand from their neutralist ally Prince Souvanna Phouma, to halt their offensive.

The shattering of the year-old truce raised growing concern in the U.S. government, which has been pressuring Prince Boun Oum's anti-Communist Vientiane regime to come to terms with the neutralists and Red-lining Prince Souphanouvong and form a national unity government.

Officials of the Kennedy administration still held hopes the pro-Communist Pathet Lao forces would be checked. But informants in Washington said some U. S. forces conceivably could become involved in Laos if the Reds try to overrun the whole of the jungle kingdom.

The Vientiane defense ministry announced the pro-Communist forces moved into Houei Sai today after overrunning government troops fighting a rearguard action Wednesday.

American military sources said government troops were crossing the river into Thailand Thursday night but added, "We don't know exactly what happened then."

Royal army units had fought a five-hour battle with the onrushing Pathet Lao troops at Tha Fai, 20 miles north of Houei Sai, but failed to check them, the defense ministry reported.

Reports reaching Vientiane indicated Houei Sai, last government outpost in the northwest, was given up without a fight. The Pathet Lao, backed and armed by the Soviet Union, North Viet Nam, and Red China, surged forward in a lightning offensive that advanced more than 100 miles in five days after the capture of Nam Tha, provincial capital near the Chinese border.

Details on the fall of Houei Sai were meager. There were no reports of government casualties or how many escaped. The royal garrison at Nam Tha totaled 5,000 men but they had proved no match for the rebel onslaught and beat a hasty retreat south.

The Pathet Lao kept up their advance despite an order from neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma to Prince Souphanouvong, his half-brother, to pull his forces back to the cease-fire line established May 3, 1961. Souvanna, the choice of the major powers to head a coalition government, is in France for medical treatment and the wedding of a daughter.

The rebel advance to Thailand's northeast frontier was certain to arouse grave new fears in that pro-Western kingdom and to bring new demands for action by the United States or the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization to check to pro-Communist Laotians.

The Thai government has said repeatedly that a Communist takeover in Laos would be a major threat to Thailand, which the United States is pledged to defend against Communist aggression.

Microbe to Be Named for State

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Health Department said Thursday it has discovered a new strain of intestinal organism and proposes to name the microbe after Arkansas.

Dr. William L. Blum Jr., director of the Communicable Disease Control Division of the department, identified the strain as a new type of Salmonella species.

He said the strain was found in a six-month-old North Little Rock Negro child late last year by Miss Helen Bowers and Mrs. George K. Brown, employees of the state Hygienic Laboratory.

Discovery of the new strain, one of over a 100 in the Salmonella family, was described by department officials as a further link in the medical knowledge of diseases of man rather than a major breakthrough.

Officials said 72 cases of Salmonellosis were found in Arkansas last year.

The new strain was certified by the Public Health Center at Atlanta, Ga.

Plant Blast in Ohio Kills Nine Persons

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Firemen continued today to probe the charred debris of a chemical plant where an explosion Thursday killed at least nine persons and injured 46.

Authorities said the body of one person still unaccounted for may be in the debris of the Maumee Chemical Co. All the dead were company employees.

Nine of the injured remained in Toledo hospitals.

The devastating explosion in the three-story plant near downtown Toledo spewed wreckage over a five-block area.

Great clouds of multicolored smoke rolled over the city as chemicals in the plant burned.

Streets were littered with glass from windows shattered by the force of the explosion.

"I'm damned lucky to be alive," commented Wilfred C. Lauer, manager of a grocery store across the street from the plant. The plant was located on the east bank of the Maumee River. The downtown area is on the west bank, less than a quarter mile away.

Lauer said there was a terrific explosion. "The building just collapsed," he added.

In a nearby office building, Charles Bigley, 73, said the blast "just lifted me up. For a minute or two I couldn't breathe."

The blast could have been caused by a lot of things, said R. H. Baldwin, company chief engineer. "We may never know."

Officials declined to estimate the amount of damage.

Mill Group Refused a Recess

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission at Washington upheld Thursday a ruling by hearing examiner Herman Tocker refusing the Central Arkansas Milk Producers Association an extended recess in its FTC hearing here.

CAMPA attorney Stuart Russell of Oklahoma City filed a motion for the recess April 27 on grounds the lengthy hearing was working a hardship on CAMPA officials and that he needed time to attend to his private law practice. Tocker denied the motion because of FTC rules designed to speed up hearings and because CAMPA had agreed to the new procedure at a pre-trial conference.

The current hearing, which is its seventh week, concerns FTC charges that CAMPA and its secretary-manager, David L. Parr, engaged in a conspiracy to restrain or eliminate competition and sold milk to certain producers at discriminatory prices.

Tocker said the commission's ruling was precedent setting in that it was the first to be made under the new procedure set up last June.

The school will be financed by a $200,000 bond issue, approved here last December, a short-term loan, and school funds now on hand.

Finds French Cash in His Taxicab

NEW YORK (AP) — Bernard Korman, a Brooklyn cab driver, discovered a pocketbook in his cab Thursday night containing $3,000.05 and close to $1,000 in French francs. He turned it over to police in Brooklyn's 62nd Precinct.

The officers, who said the money belonged to a woman who is leaving for France today, said Korman showed up with the money before the loss had been reported.

Fish Farm Bill Gets a Big Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arkansas' fish farming research programs received an important shot in the arm Thursday with Senate Appropriations Committee approval of an Interior Department bill.

The bill adds funds for one new Arkansas project, increases funds for several others above House allowances and approved other items for the state already passed by the House.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., a committee member, said the new item provides $225,000 to begin construction of a fish farm experiment station at Kelso, Ark., permitting further research in the Desha County area.

McClellan said the new program is aimed at encouraging rice farmers to see their idle rice land for fish ponds.

The senior Arkansas senator said $170,000 was added to funds for a fish hatchery at Greers Ferry, bringing to $265,000 total allocated to the project.

The new amount, McClellan said, would be enough to allow construction of a production unit at Greers Ferry which would be in operation by next year. The hatchery would provide trout for the Little Red River below the new Greers Ferry dam.

Funds for a program aimed at controlling wolves in southwestern Arkansas and muskrats and other animals which damage banks and levees in rice areas were increased from $10,000 to $60,000.

Other items included in the bill were $100,000 for research to control blackbirds which cause extensive rice crop damage; $170,000 for research on White River reservoir to determine why fishing deteriorates in deep water reservoirs after a few years; $185,000 for the Norfolk fish hatchery; and $319,000 to acquire land for the Fort Smith national historic site.

Man Can't Make Bond for Stealing

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Cecil Martin Hurt, 49, of South Dakota, was held in lieu of $10,000 bond after a temporary hearing here Thursday, charged with interstate transportation of stolen property.

He was arrested Wednesday at Pochontas after residents there recognized his picture on a wanted poster. He had been posing as a farmer near Maynard, Ark.

U.S. Commissioner Dean Lindsey, who held Hurt's hearing here, said Hurt would be taken to Little Rock where he would be held until warrants charging him with two counts of fraud are received from Fargo, N.D. Lindsey said Hurt's final hearing would be held at Little Rock.

Roy K. Moore, special agent in charge of the Little Rock office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said hurt is charged with transporting $6,000 gained by fraud from Valley City, N.D., Aberdeen, S.D., on March 3, 1960. Moore said Hurt also was charged with using the mails to defraud. He said Hurt, a native of Moorhouse, Mo. had a criminal record dating back to 1922, including conviction on violation of the Dyer Act, larceny, confidence games and interstate transportation of a stolen airplane.

Faubus Hints He'll Revive the Race Issue

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus predicted Thursday that the race issue will be dodged by candidates in the forthcoming gubernatorial campaign. But Faubus said the segregation question will remain important with voters and will influence their decisions.

Race was the key issue in Faubus' third term campaign in 1958. In 1960 it was primarily a vehicle for Bruce Bennett, who finished third. Faubus did not dwell on it, as he did two years earlier.

Faubus discussed the coming campaign at length in an interview.

He said he will defend his Highway Commission as "non-political," even though he has appointed four of its five members.

"It's non-political if the first one was," he said, nothing that Gov. Francis Cherry appointed all five commissioners when the agency was reorganized under the Mack-Blackwell Amendment in 1953.

Faubus said he will refuse to fire two Employment Security Division employees despite the government's threat to withhold $36,000 in federal aid if they are retained.

The men—Luke Arnett and Charles Wood—were found guilty of violating the Hatch Act, which prohibits political activity by state employees paid with federal funds.

Faubus said Arnett and Wood were charged with soliciting campaign funds (for Faubus in 1960) but were convicted of participating in a political campaign.

"That's the right of every free American," Faubus said.

He added the state would not feel the loss of the federal funds since the ESD has had a surplus of funds in the past. The government pays the cost of the ESD operation.

Faubus said he expected his opponents this year to sing the same song his 1958 and 1960 foes warbled. "They just don't like the Faubus administration," he said, "and because they can't dictate to the administration," he said.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States touched off today its eighth nuclear detonation of the current Pacific test series in the atmosphere.

As with most of the other shots of Operation Dominic, the device was dropped from an airplane.

The test was in the vicinity of Christmas Island.

Soldiers Flee From China to Hong Kong

By FORREST EDWARDS

HONG KONG (AP)—Hundreds of soldiers and militiamen—some carrying weapons with them—were among refugees streaming into this British Crown Colony from Communist China Wednesday, local newspapers report.

Government officials refused to comment on the reports, and newsmen are barred from the border area.

Five Hong Kong newspapers, including the conservative English-language Morning Post, carried the reports of the military refugees.

The Post said 300 military men crossed over Wednesday and that villagers in the border region reported Hong Kong police quickly surrounded them.

The Chinese-language Hong Kong Times said the troops carried white flags and their leaders asked that they be sent to Formosa to join Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist army.

The surge of refugees from Red China has increased to about 10,000 a month. Because of the overcrowded conditions in the colony, British officials are shipping thousands of them back.

There have been growing suspicions that Peiping is behind the exodus to embarrass the British authorities in Hong Kong and to get rid of many persons regarded as nonproductive in the country confronted with an acute food shortage.

The English-language Hong Kong Standard reported armed Communist guards were herding large groups to the border during the night and forcing them to scramble through the barbed wire. The paper said villagers along the border and refugees reported 30,000 to 40,000 Chinese were waiting in villages and hill-sides on the China side for a chance to slip over.

This consensus will be reported to about 100 members of the Business Council, including the top brass of the country's biggest corporations, at its spring meeting opening here today.

The findings were made for the council by a panel of a dozen industry experts. They will be reported to the council Saturday by Charles C. Mortimer, board chairman of General Foods, Inc., and head of the council's committee on the domestic economy.

The forecasts were reported without fanfare last week to the President's Council of Economic Advisers in Washington, which concurs in the optimism but suspects that sales and production may go even higher than the industry estimates.

Mortimer, it was learned, will pass these conclusions on to the council headed by Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel Corp.

Production this year will hit a record $560 billion total and will reach a rate of $570 billion in the final quarter.

The economy will still be on the rise at the year-end. This virtually assures a recovery phase of at least two years from the

U. S. Moves to Ease Relations With Business

By STERLING F. GREEN

NOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—The Kennedy administration made a major move today toward better relations with business by announcing that liberalization of tax depreciation write-offs will be ordered soon.

Unofficial estimates set the 1962 tax savings at about $1.25 billion for big and little businessmen.

The announcement was made at a singularly appropriate forum—the Business Council, an organization of major industrialists headed by Chairman Roger M. Blough of U.S. Steel Corp., President Kennedy's chief antagonist in the April steel price tussle. Big Steel rolled back its price increases under pressures from Kennedy.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon sent the word that the revision is now in its final stages. He said the write-offs will be ordered into effect late next month or in July at the latest.

Dillon, detained in Washington by congressional hearings, was unable to attend today's opening session of the Business Council's spring meeting. Undersecretary Henry H. Fowler read Dillon's speech at the closed-door session after giving copies to newsmen.

As if in direct reply to the steel who have charged since the steel battle that the Kennedy administration is antibusiness, Fowler told the 100 assembled corporation heads:

"Our depreciation revision as a whole will, indeed, be meaningful to American industry and to the entire American economy."

"Can anyone any longer doubt this?"

The Treasury official gave no actual figures and made no estimate of the amount industry would save—and the Treasury would lose—by shortening the periods in which companies can write off the cost of new machinery and equipment.

But, he said the bigger annual deductions it will permit will take effect in this 1962 tax year, will be usable as a matter of right by all taxpayers, and will apply to machines and equipment already in use as well as to those bought subsequently.

His words dispelled suspicions voiced in some quarters that there would be only a token liberalization, or that the prospect of faster depreciation was being used merely as bait to induce businessmen to support the other key elements of the administration's tax program—the bill providing a tax credit for investment made in modernization.

NOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) —The business jitters which have sent the stock market into a tailspin were belied today by solidly optimistic forecasts—made by industry's own economists—of strongly rising business activity through 1962.

This consensus will be reported to about 100 members of the Business Council, including the top brass of the country's biggest corporations, at its spring meeting opening here today.

The findings were made for the council by a panel of a dozen industry experts. They will be reported to the council Saturday by Charles C. Mortimer, board chairman of General Foods, Inc., and head of the council's committee on the domestic economy.

The private economists look for a year-record auto year, a possible expansion of corporation's planned investment in plant and equipment and a pickup in home-building which will stimulate sales of household equipment and appliances.
The President's economic advisers — Chairman Walter W. Heller is an invited guest of the Business Council here — still cling to their hope of a $570 billion production year, but they concede the January-February hesitation may have set back their timetable.

Runaway Barges Crash Into Dam

CLARKSVILLE, Mo. (AP) —

Three runaway barges, including one $500,000 vessel loaded with 2,400 tons of concrete, crashed against the Clarksville navigation dam on the Mississippi River Wednesday night, severely damaging two of the dam's gates.
Army Engineers were bringing in several powerful towboats to haul away the barges.
The expensive cement barge of the Universal Atlas Co., known as The Hannabell, and the other barges were cut loose by the towboat Frank L. Blasko, operated by the Gem Towing Co. Army Engineers said the towboat's engines failed to respond when it was placed in reverse as it approached the low-level dam. In addition to the big cement barge, one barge was loaded with scrap metal and the other with corn.
The grain barge sprung a leak bumping against the dam but it was pumped out and repaired.

The steelmaking furnaces in the United States poured 99,281,601 tons of ingots and steel for castings during 1960. This was the sixth highest annual output in history, according to a report of American Iron and Steel Institute.

McMath to Speak at Fayetteville

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Former Gov. Sid McMath said today he has accepted an invitation from the Washington County Democratic Committee to speak at a political rally in Fayetteville May 17.

David Hale, president of the University of Arkansas Young Democrats Club, said today the meeting is sponsored by the Washington County Democratic Committee and the University Young Democrats.

Because the university's board of trustees has prohibited political rallies on campus, the two groups have obtained permission to use the Woodland Junior High School gymnasium in Fayetteville.

"The directive banning political discussions on the university campus should be observed by all," McMath said.

"However, it is hoped that in due time this traditional and educational activity will be reinstated."

Newspaper Strike Ends at Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's month-long newspaper strike ended today as both of the daily papers prepared to resume publication with Friday's editions.

Lee Hills, vice president and executive editor of the morning Detroit Free Press said, "We have called employees back to work in all departments and expect to resume publication tonight with our normal Friday editions."

Spokesmen for the Detroit News also said the afternoon paper would resume publication with its regular Friday editions.

Conservatives in Britain Lose

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan's government was shaken today as Liberals and Laborites walloped the Conservatives in local elections that often reflect the national political trend.

The Conservatives conceded a setback as the opposition seized control of municipal councils in 36 towns. The Tories lost a net of 516 seats in 428 boroughs in England and Wales.

The campaign was fought almost entirely on domestic issues — particularly the Macmillan government's new restraints on wages and dividends and the uncertainties over Britain's prospective entry into the Common Market.

Hill-Fowler Vows Exchanged
Miss Lillian Faustine Hill, became the bride of William Charles Fowler at 8 p.m. April 20 at the Nashville Assembly of God. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barto Hill of McCaskill. Mr. Fowler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Fowler of Nashville.

The Rev. Billy McClain officiated at the double ring ceremony. Preceding the wedding, Miss Shirley Fowler, sister of the groom, sang "Always" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Billy McClain. Candles were lighted by Tommy Parker of Nashville, cousin of the groom, and Jackie Hill, brother of the bride.

Given in marriage by her uncle, A. B. McWhorter of Hot Springs the bride wore a traditional gown of white lace over taffeta. The dress had a boat neckline and long sleeves ending in lily points over the hands. Ruffles enhanced the voluminous skirt which swept into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a Bible topped with white carnations and stephanotis.

Baskets of white spring flowers marked the altar where vows were exchanged. Miss Patricia Ann Fowler, sister of the groom, was the maid of honor. She wore a lilac dress with matching heart dress and carried pink carnations on a white Bible.

Miss Fay Hill, the bride's sister, and Miss Sue Hill, her cousin, were the bridesmaids. Their dresses of white and blue, respectively, were fashioned like that of the honor attendant. Miss Carolyn Hill, sister of the bride, was the flower girl.

Master Billy Hill, brother of the bride, was ring bearer. Kenneth York served the groom as best man. Ushers were the bride's brothers, Jackie and Barto Jr.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the home of the groom's parents. The serving table was covered with a gold cloth and decorated with white and purple lilies. The punch and wedding cake were served by the bride's attendants. Mrs. Tommy Parker of Nashville had charge of the bride's book.

When the couple left for a trip in Northern Arkansas, the bride wore a blue and white dress with blue accessories and a corsage from her wedding bouquet. She will make her home in Nashville while her husband is stationed with U.S. Air Force in Spain.

Haynie-Jones Vows Repeated

Miss Jeanne Jones became the bride of L. Charles Haynie Jr. at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, May 5, at the First Baptist Church in Prescott. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milburn J. Jones and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haynie Sr. all of Prescott.

Rev. W. R. Woodell officiated at the double ring ceremony before a sunburst arrangement of white gladioli and white mums centered with white wedding bells. Seven branched candelabra holding Cathedral tapers which were lighted by Tommy Jones and Danny Jones, brothers of the bride, flanked the central arrangement. On either side of the Chancel rail were ferns containing arrangements of white gladioli and white mums. Mrs. Tip White sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Miss Ellen Kennedy, organist, who also presented a program of nuptial music. The vows were marked with white bows centered with white wedding bells.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wall length Chantilly lace gown over satin, styled with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and long fitted sleeve tapering to petal points over the wrists. Her shoulders' veil of bridal illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls enriched with crystals. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli, fringed carnations, lily of the valley with white satin piko ribbon tied in love knots. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Miss Linda Gail May, Foreman, maid of honor, and Miss Barbara Lynn Baker, Prescott, bridesmaid, wore identical street length frocks of yellow taffeta. Each wore a veil of yellow tulle attached to a circle of yellow velvet ribbon, and carried cascade bouquets of yellow daisy mums and seafoam green tulle. Miss Elaine White and Becky Cook Haynie, dressed identically in mint green silk organza over taffeta wore flower girls. They carried ballerina bouquets of yellow pom mums.

Master Jim Jones, brother of the bride, was ring bearer and carried a white satin pillow. Paul Smithpeters of Okolona, served his brother-in-law as best man. Ushers were James Carroll, Texarkana and Tommy Jones.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church. The bride's table was covered with white taffeta. The central arrangement of yellow daisy mums were flanked by the silver candelabra holding burning bridal tapers. The four tiered wedding cake was topped with white orchids arranged in pearlized arch. Punch and mints were served.

Mrs. R. C. McBrayer greeted

One For My Dame

By JACK WEBB

THE STORY: Fearful that police will confine him to a hospital, Rick Jackson escapes from his second floor apartment by climbing out a window.

Chapter 11

"Mr. Jackson!" Shirley Avalon had her screen and window open and was leaning out. I wondered vaguely what a 10-year-old was doing home in a pink cotton nightgown at that time of day.

"Mr. Jackson, come here!"

I shook my head.

"Don't be stupid, Mr. Jackson."

I began to laugh, but I moved across the alley to the window.

"Come in, please, quickly." She grabbed my shirt and pulled. I leaped forward, giving in to her fragile, determined strength, and I fell head first on the floor.

"Excuse me, Mr. Jackson."

She straddled me so that she could reach and hook the screen, close the window and lock it, and pull down the blind. "I've got the measles," she said, "I'm supposed to stay in a darkened room. It's a frightful nuisance, really. Absolutely devastating."

"Oh," I said.

The whole thing was idiotic. We could hear men running past the window. Shirley put a finger on my lips. The only light was from a shaded globe in the hood of a trade-in automobile I had set up for her. Her father was maintenance man for the building.

She squatted down beside me and whispered, "You really didn't have anything to do with it, did you?"

"With what?"

"Shhh. With that girl that they just said on the radio was in your apartment before she disappeared."

In the soft filtered light her big dark eyes were truly enormous, all out of place in that thin, pointed face.

So the Congressman has let loose, I thought. I almost felt sorry for Geiser. Then I heard his voice in the alley.

"He has to be around here close. If that fool Coomer . . ."

They went on by.

"We'll talk about it later," Shirley said. "Now you get under my bed and I'll get in it before Mom comes back to see what's happening in the alley."

I started to argue, and then it wasn't worth arguing about. I crawled under her bed. The floures on the homemade pink duster brushed the floor. It was warm and dark. I heard the springs squeak lightly and then the music from a radio that apparently was beside her bed, although I hadn't noticed it.

Her bed squeaked abruptly and her whisper was urgent. "Now you keep quiet, Mr. Jackson, until the guards at the door and introduced them to the receiving line. Mrs. Paul Smithpeters, sister of the groom, had charge of the bride's book. Serving the cake were Mrs. James Hulon and Mrs. James Carroll, sister of the groom. Miss Betty Hendrix and Mrs. Charles Bolls served the punch.

The bride chose a brown linen suit with beige accessories for travel. The couple will live in Waco, Texas, where L. Haynie is serving at the Connelly AFB.

Coming and Going

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Yontz will spend the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cantlon.

Mrs. H. C. Murphy has returned from a visit with her son, Henry Murphy and Mrs. Murphy at Tyler, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Roberts have returned from Little Rock after spending a few days in the Lafayette Hotel. While there they visited J. D. Sutton family, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Brown and Mrs. Henry Morton.

We have time to make some plans.

"Okay," I said weakly.

It felt good to be in the dark and out of sight. My head was still pounding, but I was getting used to it, just as you get used to irritating music on a jukebox in a place you're glad to be.

"Mom, Mom! Will you come here, please, Mom?" She kept it up with her voice rising until I heard Edna Avalon open the door.

"Dear, you must be quiet."

"What's happening out in the alley, Mom?"

"Nothing, dear, just some men out there."

"What are they doing?"

"I . . . I don't know." Her feet went by me, across the floor. "Your window is locked, isn't it?"

"Sure, Mom, why not?"

The blind was raised and then lowered again.

"Mom, are they looking for Mr. Jackson?"

"For goodness sakes, Shirley, whatever are you talking about?" I was being very quiet now.

"They just said on the radio, Mom, that he had that girl, that Congressman's daughter, in his apartment. Night before last, Mom. Honest. Just before she disappeared."

"Well, for goodness sakes," said Edna Avalon. She had a lot less imagination than her daughter.

"I don't think he did it," Shirley said.

"Dear," said Mrs. Avalon firmly, "you're not supposed to think about things like that."

"Why not, Mom? Gosh, if I'm just supposed to lie here . . ."

"Shirley!"

"Yes, Mom?"

Out somewhere in the great beyond a door buzzer buzzed.

Well, they're here, I decided. Mrs. Avalon crossed the room. At the door she paused. "Now you just be quiet, dear. Watch your fish. They are pretty things, aren't they?"

"Okay, Mom." Shirley's voice was resigned.

Jackson, I thought, you have just witnessed the birth of a Nazimova, an Ethel Barrymore, or even a Shirley Booth.

Edna Avalon closed the door and we could hear her hurrying footsteps going away.

Her daughter leaned over the edge of the bed. "How am I doing, Mr. Jackson?"

"Enormous," I whispered. Ridiculously I felt a surge of hope. A strange bedfellow to have under the bed.

Available records for 1961 on heights and weights of U. S. adults show that young men and women averaged two inches taller than in 1961. Male average in 1961 was 69½ inches; female 64½ inches.

Professor Is Alarmed Over Ban

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — A recently imposed regulation prohibiting political speeches from campus facilities at the University of Arkansas has drawn the fire of a faculty member as well as politicians.

In a letter to the editor of the student newspaper, the Arkansas Traveler, Edgar A. Albin, professor of Art, expressed alarm over an alleged trend toward disallowing free expression.

Albin, who is chairman of humanities at the university, said, "If political parties cannot present their cases to the young minds who are tomorrow's citizens, then surely we are all well on our way to the creation of attitudes which ultimately strangle a man's mind and spirit and make him a robot."

And two gubernatorial candidates, Sid McMuth of Little Rock and Vernon Whitten of Mount Holly have spoken against the new ruling, imposed after a New York marriage counselor, in a talk on the campus, allegedly advocated premarital sex.

Whitten has termed the ruling a tool of Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who is seeking a fifth term as governor.

The Mount Holly businessman described the regulation as being aimed at preventing his son and McMuth's son, both students at the university, from organizing campus support for their fathers.

Faubus also has a son attending school in Fayetteville.

A scheduled campus rally of the Young Republicans Club at which two GOP gubernatorial candidates, Willis Ricketts of Fayetteville, and William Harold Sadler of Little Rock, were to appear was canceled.

Three Democratic gubernatorial candidates, including McMuth and Whitten, are scheduled to appear at a Washington County rally May 17, to be held at the Woodlawn Junior High School. Marvin Mellon of Jonesboro is the third Democrat.

The university's Board of Trustees gathers Saturday in Fort Smith for its annual off-campus meeting and is expected to review the ruling.

Should Expectant Wife Forgive Gallivanting Husband?

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My husband and I are expecting our first child. Up to a month ago, we were as happy as love birds. He brought my breakfast to me on a tray, hurried home early from the office to help with dinner, always brought flowers or some little gift. I was floating on Cloud Nine and thought he was too.

Then he began staying at the office late. Income tax returns had to be done—he's the eleventh hour Eddie type, so I accepted his excuses for the truth. Being as he didn't get home till late, it was I who fixed breakfast and cooked dinner alone. To top this, he began acting mean.

Last week the truth came out. He confessed to partying with my best girl friend. Her husband being a Navy man and at sea most of the time, made it easy for them to meet in her apartment. It seems the husband had come unexpectedly the night before. Mine barely got away in time. To say I was hard hit puts it mildly. I just sat there, numb rocking back and forth. I couldn't even cry, let alone talk. My husband kept begging my forgiveness.

I slept on the living room couch that night. He paced the floor in our bedroom. When morning came, he fixed me breakfast and brought it to me on a tray but I couldn't eat it. Finally, he had to go to work. Because I loved him I said I would forgive him but I can't forget. What with the baby coming and all, I'm a nervous wreck. Should I have said I was divorcing, instead of forgiving him? —Despairing Wife.

Dear Despairing: Under the circumstances, be tolerant, especially since, as you say, you still love your husband. He did admit to wrong-doing, which is in his favor. And you are about to bear his baby. If handled properly, this whole wretched experience could bring you two closer together. By "properly" I mean, take it in your stride and say nothing, not even to your so-called "best friend." If your husband has a spark of intelligence he'll show his gratitude by sincerely doing his very best to make you and the baby happy.

Dear Helen: I am a 14-year-old boy who looks 21. I stand six feet, can wear my father's clothes and consider myself fully matured, physically and mentally. I'm madly in love with a girl who is 28 and, if my parents won't give their consent, plan to elope with her. Mom says I should finish high school first if I want a job that will pay enough to support my girl and me. I have a pretty good job now, working in a grocery store, after school and weekends. I could have it full time if I left school. I'm only a sophomore but just can't wait another three years to marry. Do you agree with Mom, or me?—Undecided Lover.

Dear Undecided: I'm with your Mom. What's that 28-year-old woman doing—cradle snatching? She, not you, is the one who should have their head examined. Go back to your school and stay there, before she ruins your life. This isn't love. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet on "Sex Education For Teen-agers."

Dear Helen: I was raised on a farm and never went anywhere except to school. At 16 I had to make my own way. Knowing nothing about the world, I got into trouble and felt the lowest thing alive. Just about this time I met a man 20 years older than I, with a prison record. Drawn together by the common bond—of wrong-doing, we married.

I've been paying for it ever since. My husband carouses, runs around with other women, can't keep a job and is a general no-good. After 14 years of marriage and four children, we haven't got one red cent. To make matters worse, I'm expecting another child. My husband worries more about his dogs and rabbits than about me. Is there any way out of this hopeless morass?—Unhappy Wife.

Dear Unhappy? Since your husband has a prison record he must have been on parole. Look up his parole officer. Ask him to help you. If compatible with your religion, divorced may be the answer. Planned parenthood would also be indicated.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine care of this newspaper. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Divorces and Separations."

Major League Stars By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Pitching — Billy O'Dell, Giants, shut out second-place St. Louis 6-0 on four singles, walking one, as San Francisco boosted its National League lead to four games in a contest halted by rain with two out in the last of the ninth. Batting — Ty Cline, Indians, drove in four runs with pair of two-run singles and added another single in a 9-4 victory over Minnesota.

Indians Going for Broke in Yankee Series

By JIM HACKLEMAN Associated Press Sports Writer

Fresh from a successful road trip and with first place in their sights, the Cleveland Indians now go for broke in a four-game series with the New York Yankees that could prove the most telling of the young American League season.

Sparked by rookie outfielder Ty Cline, the Indians rapped Minnesota 9-4 Thursday and inched to within 1 1/2 games of the front-running Yankees, who had the day off. That was the Tribe's fifth victory in its last seven games.

Cline had a pair of two-run singles as the Indians roared away from the Twins with four runs in the fourth inning and four more in the fifth, and also chipped in with another single in Cleveland's 13-hit offensive.

Jim Perry survived an early shelling and went the distance for the Indians, allowing eight hits. Also in the AL, Early Wynn registered pitching victory No. 294 as the Chicago White Sox beat Washington 3-1. Los Angeles downed Detroit 6-4. Baltimore beat Kansas City 5-2. Boston, like the Yankees, took the day off.

In the National League, first-place San Francisco blanked runner-up St. Louis 6-0. Los Angeles knocked off Houston 6-2 and Milwaukee topped Pittsburgh 4-3. The New York Mets and the Cubs were again idled by cold weather at Chicago, while Philadelphia and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

Thursday against the Twins, Perry got bombed for homers by the first two men he faced, Lenine Green and Vic Power, and fell behind 3-0 when Green doubled in another run in the second. But the Indians rocked loser Don Lee, Georges Maranda and Ted Sadowski for their four-run bursts in the fourth and fifth, making it a breeze for Perry the rest of the way.

Wynn (2-1) checked the Senators on seven hits and was two outs away from the 47th shutout of his 22-year big league career when doubled by Dale Long and Gene Woodling produced the Washington run. The White Sox broke a scoreless tie with two runs off Bennie Daniels, in the sixth and got another run on Al Smith's homer in the eighth.

Rye Duren, making the fourth save in his last five appearances, stifled the Tigers on just one over the final three innings in preserving the victory for Jack Spring and the Angels. Detroit powered to a 4-3 edge in the fifth when Jake Wood smashed a three-run homer and Al Kaline hit his 10th.

But Billy Moran's triple and a single by Leon Wagner tied it in the bottom of the fifth, and Albie Pearson's sacrifice fly brought in the winner in the sixth. Doug Galtlager was the loser.

Supported by homers from Jim Gentile and Charley Lau, Chuck Estrada and Hoyt Wilhelm tamed Kansas City batters down the Philadelphia and Cincinnati had an off day.

In the American League, Cleveland's white Sox turned back Washington 3-1, the Los Angeles Angels defeated Detroit 6-4 and Baltimore beat Kansas City 5-2. New York and Boston were not scheduled.

O'Dell remained unbeaten and hurled his third complete game in a row by baffling the Cards until play was halted by rain with two out in the last of the ninth. It was the first time the Cards had been blanked this season.

The Giants struck for two runs in the fourth inning against Bob Gibson (3-2) on a single by Willie McCovey, Orlando Cepeda's double and a double by Felipe Alou that chased both home.

Drysdale, who has lost once, allowed both Colt runs on homers. Roman Mejias hit his eighth, an inside-the-park job in the first inning, and Carl Warwick got the other two with two out in the ninth.

Held to six hits by Bob Bruce (1-1) and Don McMahon, the Dodgers took a lead they never relinquished when rookie Larry Burright tagged his first major league homer after walks to Ron Fairly and John Roseboro in the fourth.

The Braves sent the Pirates reeling to their seventh loss in eight games. Bolting applied the crusher, snapping a 3-1 tie in the ninth when Mack Jones (1-1). The Braves had pulled even homered after a walk to Howie Bedell and Tommie Aaron's single. Rookie Hank Fisher (1-1) working in relief of Bob Hendley, picked up the victory.

Drysdale and O'Dell Each Have Won 5

By MIKE RATHER Associated Press Sports Writer

Billy O'Dell and Don Drysdale, a pair of talented tossers who serve 'em up from different sides, are headed in the same direction.

Each won his fifth game Thursday night with standout pitching performances, maintaining quick starts that could get them into the 20-victory circle for the first time.

O'Dell, 29, a southpaw, boosted San Francisco's National League lead over second-place St. Louis to four games by allowing the Cardinals only four singles while his Giant teammates were pounding out 11 hits for a 6-0 victory.

Drysdale, 25, a right-hander, moved third-place Los Angeles within .19 percentage points of the runner-up Redbirds with a three-hitter, setting down 17 consecutive batters during one stretch of the Dodgers' 6-2 triumph over Houston's Colts.

Only one other game was played in the NL, Milwaukee edging Pittsburgh 4-3 on Frank Bolling's ninth inning homer before 2,746 fans — lowest turnout at home in Braves' history. The New York Mets-Chicago Cubs game again was postponed due to cold. Philadelphia and Cincinnati had an off day.

In the American League, Cleveland's white Sox turned back Washington 3-1, the Los Angeles Angels defeated Detroit 6-4 and Baltimore beat Kansas City 5-2. New York and Boston were not scheduled.
